PORTLAND PARKS & RECREATION TITLE II NOTICE

In accordance with the requirements of Title II of the Americans with Disabilities Act of 1990 (ADA), Portland Parks & Recreation (PP&R) will not discriminate against qualified individuals with disabilities on the basis of disability in its activities, programs, and services.

EFFECTIVE COMMUNICATION

One of the ways PP&R ensures it is effectively communicating with people with disabilities is by providing at no charge appropriate communication aids and services.

Examples of appropriate aids and services PP&R could provide include:

- accessible electronic documents
- assistive listening devices
- braille documents
- reader/transcriber
- sign language

To file a complaint under Title II, call 311 or complete the City of Portland's Report Discrimination form:

portland.gov/311/discrimination-report

To get help with an appropriate method of communication, requesting a modification, or to request any accommodation related to your disability, call 311 or the following form:
portland.gov/311/ada-request

MODIFICATIONS TO POLICIES AND PROCEDURES

Introduction of Reasonable Modification

PP&R will reasonably modify its policies, practices, and procedures so people with disabilities can access PP&R activities, facilities, programs, and services; furthermore, PP&R will provide reasonable modifications quickly, easily, and without requiring proof of disability.

DEFINING REASONABLE MODIFICATION

A reasonable modification is a change or exception to policy, practice, or procedure that allows people with disabilities to have equal access to the activities, facilities, programs, and services offered by PP&R. Reasonable modifications must always be related to an existing disability.

When requesting a reasonable modification to a policy, practice, or procedure, an individual with a disability is not required to provide medical documentation or information about a diagnosis, but they must be able to explain how their disability relates to the requested modification.

GETTING HELP

Whether you call 311 or complete either of the online forms, your information will be submitted to the PP&R staff best able to assist you.

ABOUT MULTNOMAH ARTS CENTER

Multnomah Arts Center (MAC) provides excellent arts education in the visual, performing, and literary arts at an affordable cost to students of all ages. We offer programs in music, movement, dance, theatre, woodshop, literary arts, metal arts, mixed media, printmaking, drawing, painting, photography, ceramics, sculpture, textiles, and more. These extensive class offerings are provided by over specialized teaching artists from the region. MAC serves thousands of students regardless of ability, age, race, religion, ethnic origin, sexual orientation, or financial means. Programs run year-round, and scholarships are available. Along with our vibrant arts education program, MAC presents—and partners to bring—theatre, music, dance performances, gallery exhibitions, and other special events to the community; spaces are available to rent.

Founded in 1973, MAC is one of the largest comprehensive community arts education programs in the nation. A program of Portland Parks & Recreation (PP&R), MAC is a model community center, sharing and maintaining space with multiple nonprofit community service providers. At the heart of MAC's success is the all-volunteer board of Multnomah Arts Center Association (MACA), a nonprofit body founded in 1983 that supports Multnomah Arts Center. While PP&R supports the annual operation and maintenance of Multnomah Arts Center, the nonprofit MACA makes it possible to exceed expectations for a community center by raising money to provide additional scholarships, outreach, community engagement, and make art studio and program improvements.

MULTNOMAH ARTS CENTER ASSOCIATION

The Multnomah Arts Center Association (MACA) is a dedicated all-volunteer, nonprofit organization supporting community arts education provided by MAC, a program of Portland Parks & Recreation. Since 1983, artists and community members like you have enhanced the center by raising money to assure programs and instruction are high-quality, affordable, and accessible. Your support of MACA provides free arts activities and supplies through community engagement programs, expands arts education access through additional non-resident scholarships, equipment, and facilitates infrastructure improvements that enhance the quality of class programming for life-long learning. If you believe that art education is an essential investment in our community, please consider donating to MACA today.

About Multnomah Arts Center (MAC) Community Engagement Program

Multnomah Arts Center (MAC) has made a strong commitment to developing a healthy, ongoing communities and outreach program, to serve centered communities, including black people, indigenous people, people of color, immigrants and refugees, people earning low incomes, people living with disabilities, older adults, and LGBTQIA+ communities. A primary focus is bringing high-quality arts education opportunities to outer east and north Portland.

Through partnership with The Rosewood Initiative (rosewoodinitiative.org), MAC is developing and offering satellite programming to the east Portland community, including activities in ceramics, metals, textiles, music, drawing, and painting for youth and adults. In partnership with the Pacific Refugee Support Group (pnwrs.org), MAC Instructors are providing drop-in arts activities to immigrant and refugee communities where they are in their own communities. Starting in the Winter of 2025, MAC will offer Theatre Arts programming at Y.O.U.T.H (youthpdx.org).

MAC's monthly First Friday Arts for All series has been offering free drop-in arts experiences in the visual and performing arts for all ages, providing a safe space for the community to come together and create. Why? Because when asked for feedback about what we could do better, free drop-in programs at all sites have been a common request.

During the summer season, MAC partners with PP&R's Free Lunch + Play program to provide free drop-in arts activities to Portlanders through MAC's Arts in the Parks program in over twenty park locations through the deployment of mobile art studios.

While MAC has always strived to make great arts education learning available to the community, we've been able to double down our efforts through critical support from the voter approved Parks Levy (portland.gov/parks/parks-levy). Thanks to the Multnomah Arts Center Association (multnomahartscenter.org/maca), we're able to provide even more opportunities for the community through their fiscal support of all these programs, providing free materials and great equipment for the communities to learn with.

Keeping with the belief that the Arts are for All, MAC will continue efforts across the greater Portland area in 2025 and beyond. For more information about MAC's Community Engagement Program, please contact MAC's Community Engagement Coordinator Aimé Kelly at aime.kelly@portlandoregon.gov.
